NEWSLETTER Friday 2nd March 2018

Book Aid International

Welcome to this week's edition of our newsletter. On Thursday of last week, children came to school dressed up as fictional characters to celebrate World Book Day. We raised £134.15 for Book Aid International. Thank you. Book Aid International works in sub-Saharan Africa to help more people discover the joy and value of reading. We used World Book Day assemblies to launch our annual 'Are You Ready to Read?' sponsored reading event. Over the past three years, we have raised almost £6500.00. Reading logs and sponsor forms have been distributed. It is thanks to the previous success of this event that children are now able to borrow books from our library. 'Are You Ready to Read?' runs until Wednesday 14th March - which will be the first day of our spring term Book Fair. Happy Reading! Paul Kynaston.

ICECATS In Case of Emergency Children Adults Teaching Safety

Thank you to all parents that have attended the training sessions this week. The feedback that we have had from parents has been very positive and the children will be receiving their training next week. Thank you for your continued support, it was a pleasure to see so many parents attend.

Sports News

Remember to watch the Winter Olympics!

Due to the weather this week we have had a lot of our tournaments cancelled and therefore we have not been out this week but are looking forward to our competitions next week and we have our football national finals coming up in March.

On Wednesday morning at 8am our 10 triathletes were in the swimming pool again practising for their Triathlon in April. (Mr Dickinson & Mr Gardiner).
