

BOOK REVIEWS

Hello! Welcome to this week's edition of our reading for pleasure newsletter. Pippa J. and James D. from 3S&S have been reading books by David Walliams.

Pippa has read 'Demon Dentist' and she says: 'This book is about a boy called Alfie and a Demon Dentist called Miss Root. I liked it because it's very interesting to read and you never know what is going to happen next. I think this book is for children aged seven and eight. Miss Root is a Demon Dentist because you can see her gleaming sharp teeth. Alfie has rotten yellow and brown teeth. He only has a dad and his dad is in a wheelchair. My mark for this book is ten out of ten.'

James has read 'Billionaire Boy': 'This book is about a boy called Joe. Joe's dad is a billionaire. I would give it ten out of ten and I think it's for children aged six plus. I love the book because it shows that you can want too much money – and you should not be like that. In the middle of the story there is a girl called Lauren. Joe likes Lauren – and his dad secretly paid Lauren to be Joe's girlfriend. Then Joe ran away when he found out what his dad had done – and his dad tried to find him using a helicopter.' Thanks to Pippa and James for their reviews. These will appear on our website. Please encourage children to submit reviews if they'd like to share their recommendations with others.

theguardian

Books of the Month: Please see the reverse of this newsletter for the Guardian's monthly round-up of recently published children's books. Enjoy!

Please read aloud to the children each day. Happy Reading.....Paul (27/1/20)

(At home I'm reading 'The Fountains of Silence' by Ruta Sepetys. In class I'm reading 'The Way Past Winter' by Kiran Millwood Hargrave. I'm reading 'Demon Dentist' by David Walliams to 4PK.)