

Newsletter

Pride of Malvern

We are incredibly proud of Samuel in 5ND for his phenomenal writing. Samuel has demonstrated fantastic stamina for writing since our return to school.

Thomas in 5ND has demonstrated fantastic perseverance and independence in his creative writing. We are incredibly proud of you, Thomas!

Science in action

Scientists in year three are investigating food chains. In a recent lesson, pupils had the opportunity to discover the different species consumed by owls via investigation of their owl pellets. Pupils recorded their discoveries to form conclusions. In future weeks, pupils will deepen their understanding through investigation of producers and consumers, predators and prey.

Polite Reminder

We have received a number of communications into school from local residents regarding inappropriate behaviour from a minority of our families during school drop-off and pick-up. As a school, we pride ourselves on the excellent reputation we hold in the local community and we would appreciate your support in maintaining this.

It has been fantastic to see pupils using their multiplication mastery to support Comic Relief. Competition was tight across all year groups and we are proud to report the results as follows:

Class Competition	Class	Points	Prize
1st place	5NW	1398	1hr disco
2nd place	1LM	1041	45 minute disco
3rd place	4CF	947	35 minute disco
4th place	4PK	863	30 minute disco
5th place	6JB	851	30 minute disco

Individual	Class	Name	Points	Prize
1st place	1LM	Logan M	14,580	£20 voucher
2nd place	4CF	James D	7,850	£15 voucher
3rd place	4PK	Charlie B	7,218	£10 voucher
4th place	5NW	Zach D	6,535	£5 voucher
5th place	5ND	Jack B	5,134	£5 voucher

Pupils from winning classes enjoyed putting their rock star attire to good use in our Rock Down Relief inflatable disco. I'm sure you'll agree it looks like great fun!

#MalvernRocks

It has been wonderful to see so many of our pupils dressed up as their TTRS avatars today. I'm certain you'll agree they all look rock 'n' roll ready.

Well done to all our pupils who have achieved Rock Star and Rock Legend status this week in school. We are incredibly proud of you all!

