

Welcome! The winner of the 2020 Booker Prize will be announced on Thursday of this week. Six titles have made it to the shortlist. They are: 'The New Wilderness' by Diane Cook, 'This Mournable Body' by Tsitsi Dangarembga, 'Burnt Sugar' by Avni Doshi, 'The Shadow King' by Maaza Mengiste, 'Shuggie Bain' by Douglas Stuart and 'Real Life' by Brandon Taylor.

Over To You: The last few editions of this newsletter have been posted on our school Twitter account – and they have received several positive comments. I'm keen to develop the newsletter by including items from a wide range of contributors – parents, teachers, governors and of course, the children. If you have anything for inclusion – a review, details of a favourite book, a recommendation, a poem, a favourite read-aloud or any words of reading inspiration – please email them to me.

Website: Our school website has an extensive reading section under the 'Curriculum' tab. I'm keen to refresh and update this section over the coming months. As with this newsletter, if you (adults and children) have any ideas, poems, reviews or recommendations, I'd love to include them on the website. I'm particularly keen to add some further contributions to the Poetry, Children's Reviews and Desert Island Books sections.

Please read aloud to the children each day. Happy Reading.....Paul (16/11/20)

At home I'm reading 'Actress' by Anne Enright.

In class I'm reading 'The Voyage of the Sparrowhawk' by Natasha Farrant.

We're reading 'Kidnap on the California Comet' by M.G. Leonard & Sam Sedgeman to 4PK.
