Dear Malvern Families,

Today we mourn the passing of our sovereign. For many within our community, Queen Elizabeth II is the only monarch we have known. Indeed, only those over seventy years of age will remember a time when Queen Elizabeth was not on the throne. At Malvern, our first thoughts lie with the Royal Family and our sympathy is with them at this time. As another Elizabethan era comes to an end, we reflect on the life of Queen Elizabeth II and the values of public service she embodied.

Kind regards,

Mr James

However, please be aware that school have been informed by our catering provider of potential issues within the logistics sector. These issues may lead to temporary changes in the menu provided. Santa's Spectacular

Community sits at the heart of all we do at Malvern. This year, particularly during the current economic climate, our children remain our first priority. With budgets stretched this Christmas season, our ambition is to host a day filled with festive magic.

We are looking to the wider community to support the event so that we can keep the cost of tickets to a minimum. All children in attendance will have the opportunity to visit Santa in his winter wonderland, visit Mother Christmas for some festive baking and create their own reindeer food. I sincerely hope that you will join us in spreading a little festive cheer this Christmas.

Shakespeare North Playhouse

As you read this newsletter, our Year Five and Six Drama and Theatre Club children will be wending their way to the brand-new Shakespeare North Playhouse. For the children's first live theatre experience of the new school year, they will be seeing As You Write It.

A collaboration between the Shakespeare North Playhouse and BBC's The One Show, As You Write It is the result of a writing competition for 7 to 16 year-olds. The evening will comprise three acts:

Act One: All the World's a Stage by Ruby (aged 15) from Lancashire – a comedy set in modern-day Liverpool.

Act Two: Nectarine by Ana (aged 17) from Brighton – a powerful story about friendship, family and finding yourself.

Act Three: Telling Tales by Rosie (aged 11) from Ayrshire – a play that turns our best-loved nursery rhymes into a mystery that needs to be solved.....who did push Jack down the hill?

All three acts will be performed 'in the round' in Shakespeare North's stunning Cockpit Theatre and the word on the street is that The One Show TV cameras are going to be there along with lots of specially invited guests.

Malvern Primary School is proud to be working in partnership with the Shakespeare North Playhouse and Shakespeare Schools Foundation.
